DETENTION ORDER

This matter came before the court on the Government's Motion to Detain. Based on the record in this case including the Pre-trial Services Report and the supplemental Pre-trial services with respect to the defendant's record in Canada, the court finds by a preponderance of the evidence that there is no condition or combination of conditions that will assure the appearance of the defendant as required and finds by clear and convincing evidence that there is no condition or combination of conditions that will assure the safety of other persons and the community. Pursuant to 18 United States Code, Section 3143(i) the court orders

- 1) that the defendant be committed to the custody of the Attorney General for confinement in a correction facility, separate to the extent practical from persons awaiting or serving sentences;
- 2) that the defendant be afforded reasonable opportunity for consultation with counsel;
- 3) that on order of a court of the United States or on request of the an attorney for the government, the person in charge of the corrections facility in which the person is confined deliver the person to a United States marshal for the purpose of an appearance in connection with a court proceeding.

DATED: March 13, 2002, at Honolulu, Hawaii.
